AFFIDAVIT OF JEFF NOVITZKY IN SUPPORT OF APPLICATION FOR SEARCH AND SEIZURE WARRANT

Introduction

1. This affidavit is submitted in support of search warrants and seizure warrants relating to a kickback scheme, mail fraud violations and money laundering violations undertaken by MICHAEL P. JOHNSTON, the president of Transcend Advertising and Design in Los Gatos, California, and SUSAN POWELL, the vice president of marketing for 24-Hour Fitness, a world-wide exercise chain. The locations to be searched are the business location of Transcend Advertising and Design at #8 Station Way, in Los Gatos, California, and the residence of Michael P. Johnston, at 16505 Englewood Avenue in Los Gatos, California. Both are described more thoroughly in Attachment A to this affidavit, description of property to be searched. The items to be seized at these locations are detailed in Attachment B. The assets to be seized and subject to forfeiture, which were purchased with proceeds involved in money laundering transactions are: one 1997 BMW, vehicle identification number WBABK8320VET99997 (license number 3WNT181), one Nautique Super Sport ski-boat, vessel identification number CTC97006G899 (license number 6141PK) and one 1999 Chevrolet Tahoe, vehicle identification number 3GNEK18R9XG197353 (license number 4FRE998).

2. Section I of the affidavit details the affiant's background. Section II of the affidavit describes the case background. Section III covers the evidence supporting probable cause. Section IV explains the basis for searching the business location and section V explains the basis for searching the residence location. Finally, section VI provides the basis for seizing the assets subject to forfeiture under Title 18 USC § 981.

I. Affiant's Background

3. I am a Special Agent with the Internal Revenue Service, Criminal Investigation Division ("IRS-CID"), and have been so employed since 1993. I received five months of training at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center in Glynco, Georgia. This included training in the investigative techniques of criminal violations of Title 26 U.S.C. (Internal Revenue Code), Title 18 U.S.C. Sections 1956 and 1957 (Money Laundering Control Act), and Title 31 U.S.C. (Bank Secrecy Act).

4. During my eight years with the IRS-CID, I have conducted and/or participated in hundreds of criminal investigations involving income tax violations, money laundering violations and currency violations. I have participated in the execution of numerous search warrants and have written affidavits in support of search warrants on fourteen (14) different locations. Additionally, I am the Title 31 (Bank Secrecy Act) coordinator for the Internal Revenue Service, Criminal Investigation Division, San Jose post of duty. My duties as the Title 31 coordinator include the monitoring of all suspicious currency activity through financial institutions in Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and Monterey Countys. As the San Jose CID Title 31 Coordinator, I am routinely contacted by bank officials with reports of suspicious currency transactions taking place at their institutions. The information that I have received has led to numerous investigations concerning possible violations of Title 18 U.S.C. Sections 1956 and 1957 (Money Laundering Control Act), Title 31 U.S.C. (Bank Secrecy Act), and related financial violations. I periodically attend meetings and conferences with other Title 31 Coordinators from across the country, as well as banking officials who monitor suspicious currency transactions and potential money laundering activities. At these conferences, discussions are held regarding common money laundering and suspicious currency transaction activity that is prevalent throughout the country.

II. Case Background

5. This investigation was initiated in June of 2000, when a confidential informant (hereinafter CI), came to the San Jose, California, IRS-CID office to report that her ex-boyfriend and business partner, Michael P. Johnston, was involved in a kickback scheme with the vice president of Marketing of the 24-Hour Fitness exercise chain, Susan Powell. The CI disclosed that the kickback scheme defrauded 24-Hour Fitness out of hundreds of thousands of dollars, which was split between the two participants, Johnston and Powell.

6. Based upon the information provided by the CI, and corroborated by subpoenaed bank records, corporate filings, court filings, tax return information and an audio-taped conversation between the CI and Michael Johnston, there is probable cause to believe that in furtherance of their kickback scheme, Johnston and Powell have committed violations of mail fraud (Title 18 USC § 1341), as well as federal money laundering violations (Title 18, USC § 1957) when they deposited the proceeds of the kickback scheme facilitated by the mail, into bank accounts that they controlled. Furthermore, based upon the facts set forth below, there is probable cause to believe that evidence of the kickback scheme, and related mail fraud and money laundering will be found at the residence of Michael P. Johnston located at 16505 Englewood Avenue in Los Gatos, California, and the business location of Transcend Advertising and Design located at #8 Station Way in Los Gatos, California, both described more thoroughly in Attachment A. Additionally, this affidavit will present probable cause that with the proceeds of the kickback scheme and related mail fraud and money laundering, Michael Johnston purchased a 1997 BMW 328i, a 1999 Ski Nautique Super Sport ski-boat, and a 1999 Chevy Tahoe and that because these assets are traceable to funds involved in a money laundering transaction, they are forfeitable under Title 18 USC § 981.

III. Evidence Supporting Probable Cause

a. Information provided by the CI

7. In June of 2000, the CI was referred to me by detective J.R. Langer of the Los Gatos, California, police department. I have personally checked criminal history indices, and am not aware of any criminal history for the CI. The CI is not being paid for providing information relevant to this case. The CI has not been promised any leniency in connection with any criminal investigation, and there are currently no criminal charges pending against her. On October 13, 1999, Michael Johnston filed a civil complaint against the CI, alleging breach of contract, interference with economic relationship, negligent and intentional infliction of emotional distress, and requesting a temporary restraining order and injunctive relief consistent with a settlement agreement which had previously been signed between the parties. The CI filed a cross-complaint. The civil case has recently been settled. In the course of settling the case, the CI agreed to a separation of assets, but did not admit any wrongdoing.

8. The CI contacted Langer in June of 2000 regarding the involvement of her business partner and ex-boyfriend, Michael P. Johnston, in a kickback scheme with the 24-Hour Fitness exercise chain. The CI came to the IRS/CID office in San Jose and stated that in 1995, she and Johnston established a graphics design and advertising business in Los Gatos, California, called The Source Group. The business has since changed names to Catapult, then Transcend Advertising and Design, which it is currently named (hereinafter known as "The Source/Transcend"). The CI stated that although she put forth most of the capital to establish The Source/Transcend and she is the sole shareholder of The Source/Transcend, Michael Johnston is the director and president of The Source/Transcend and has always been in control of The Source/Transcend's day-to-day affairs. Although the CI is still the listed sole shareholder of The Source/Transcend, she currently has no involvement whatsoever with the company. Johnston continues to run The Source/Transcend's day-to-day operations.

9. The CI stated that in 1998, her and Johnston's relationship soured, in part because of discoveries she made while performing bookkeeping duties for The Source/Transcend and reconciling The Source/Transcend bank accounts in 1997. The CI explained that The Source/Transcend became extremely profitable during this time largely as a result of its relationship with 24-Hour Fitness and its contact at 24-Hour Fitness, Susan Powell. The CI stated that 24-Hour Fitness, through Susan Powell, accounted for a large percentage of the The Source/Transcend's business. 24-Hour Fitness outsourced a portion of their print advertising to The Source/Transcend. While reconciling the The Source/Transcend's bank records for 1997, the CI came across numerous business checks written personally to Susan Powell, The Source/Transcend's contact with 24-Hour Fitness. The CI estimates that the checks she discovered in 1997 written to Powell totaled between $60,000 and $70,000.

10. The CI asked Michael Johnston for an explanation on the checks written to Susan Powell. Johnston told the CI that Powell had approached him and told him that he could over-bill 24-Hour Fitness for the work he did for them because she was the one who approved the expenses. Johnston told the CI that Powell said they could split the over-billed portion 50/50. Johnston told the CI that he and Powell had been doing this for some time and that unbeknownst to Powell, he was actually keeping a larger percentage of the over-billed portion than he was paying Powell. He told the CI that the checks written from the business account to Susan Powell were Powell's portions of the over-billed expenses. In addition to business checks written to Susan Powell, the CI also disclosed that she came across company checks used to pay off Powell's American Express account. Johnston told the CI that this was an additional part of the agreement he had with Powell.

b. Corporate Filings

11. I have personally reviewed and examined Source/Transcend's corporate filings made with the California Secretary of State. Specifically, the filings confirm that Michael Johnston is the president of the Source/Transcend and the CI is the Source/Transcend's sole shareholder, holding all 60,000 shares.

c. Court Filings

12. I have personally reviewed and examined the original complaint for breach of contract made by Michael Johnston against the CI. The complaint corroborates the CI's statements that she and Johnston founded the Source/Transcend and that while Johnston has always managed the day-to-day operations of the Source/Transcend, the company remains in the CI's name. Johnston's filing also confirms that the CI worked for the Source/Transcend in 1997 as its office manager.

d. Corroboration of Susan Powell's Position With 24-Hour Fitness

13. The federal tax returns for Susan Powell were examined and show that for the tax years 1996 through 1999, 24-Hour Fitness filed W-2's detailing wages paid to Susan Powell. Additionally, I found a newspaper article printed by the Contra Costa Times on July 19, 1998, highlighting recent promotions made by 24-Hour Fitness. The entirety of the article states:

"24 Hour Fitness, headquartered in Pleasanton, made six key promotions: Ron Thompson, chief operating officer; Larry Gurney, president of the Southwest division; Susan Powell, vice president of marketing; Rod Everett and Steve Clinefelter, both vice presidents of the Southwest division; and Mary Stein, vice president, Central division."

e. Subpoenaed Bank Records

14. I have served grand jury subpoenas for bank accounts belonging to the company, Michael Johnston, the CI and Susan Powell. An analysis of the bank records received to date on the company's Wells Fargo business checking account #0487-098741, reveals that over 90% of the deposits made into the account are checks from 24-Hour Fitness. Specifically, the records received to date reveal that from 12/14/1995 through 8/9/2000, two hundred and sixty seven (267) checks drawn on the accounts of 24-Hour Fitness were deposited into the company's Wells Fargo Account number 0487-098741, a business checking account. These checks totaled over $6.7 million.

15. Additionally, from records received to date from those subpoenas, I have discovered twenty-seven (27) checks written from the company's business checking account, and Michael Johnston's personal Wells Fargo Bank account #0399-241488, to Susan Powell. These checks are written personally to Susan Powell, not to 24-Hour Fitness. A detailing of these checks is as follows:

6/1/1999	Susan and Andrew Powell		50,000.00
Total:			175,758.00

16. A further analysis of the checks themselves, as well as subpoenaed bank records from Wells Fargo Bank account 0487-692345, show that 25 of the above 27 listed checks were deposited into the personal bank account of Susan Powell and her husband, Andrew Powell.

17. Additionally, I discovered two checks, one from the company account and one from Johnston's personal account, that were written to American Express. Both checks contained an American Express account number of 3728 198456 91008. One check contained the notation in the memo section "3728 198456 91008 Powell". A detailing of these checks is as follows:

Check Date	Payee	Account	Amount
1/16/1997	American Express (3728 198456 91008 Powell)	Business	6,030.00
1/25/1999	American Express (3728 198456 91008)	Personal	9,000.00
	Total:		17,030.00

f. Examination of Powell's Federal Tax Returns

18. I have examined the federal tax returns and tax return information for Susan Powell and her husband Andrew Powell for the tax years 1995 through 1999. The income reported by the Powells for the tax years 1995 through 1999 is as follows:

Tax Year	Income	Source of Income
1995	$65,875	HEC Investment W-2 (Susan)	62,989.33
		HEC Investment W-2 (Andrew)	2,627.33
		Refund of State/Local Tax	196.00
		Taxable Interest	63.00
		Total '95 Income	65,875.33
1996	116,383	24-Hour Fitness W-2 (Susan)	73,532.98
		24-Hour Fitness W-2 (Andrew)	41,016.22
		Refund of State/Local Tax	1,834.00
		Total '96 Income	116,383.20

1997	135,800	24-Hour Fitness W-2 (Susan)	78,498.89
		24-Hour Fitness W-2 (Andrew)	55,167.10
		Taxable Interest	300.00
		Refund of State/Local Tax	1,834.00
		Total '97 Income	135,799.99
1998	211,068	24-Hour Fitness W-2 (Susan)	124,881.00
		24-Hour Fitness W-2 (Andrew)	85,368.00
		Taxable Interest	101.00

		Schedule C Income (Andrew)	10,383.00
		Taxable Interest	125.00
			234,452.00

19. As the above return and return information indicates, the only income reported by the Powell's on their 1995 through 1999 federal tax returns was W-2 wages, interest income and state and local refunds. The income generated from the twenty-seven (27) checks given to Powell by Johnston through 1999, and the twenty-five (25) checks deposited into Powell's personal account through 1999, was not reported as income on the Powell's returns.

f. Audio-taped Conversation Between The CI and Michael Johnston

20. On November 30, 2000, at the direction of IRS/CID, the CI arranged for a meeting with Michael Johnston in an attempt to gain audio-taped conversation from Johnston regarding his participation in the kickback scheme with 24-Hour Fitness and Susan Powell. The CI met with Johnston at Bachman Park in Los Gatos, California. IRS/CID agents, including myself, monitored the conversation both visually and through a body transmitter worn by the CI. The conversation was also recorded with a tape recording machine concealed in the CI's purse.

21. During the conversation with the CI, Johnston spoke extensively about the agreement and payments made to Susan Powell. Johnston denied participating in a kickback scheme and insisted he did nothing wrong, but made statements which corroborated the CI's statement that he was, in fact, participating in an illicit kickback scheme with Susan Powell to defraud 24-hour fitness. The following are excerpts from the conversation between the CI and Michael Johnston:

CI: Why did you give that money to Susan?
Johnston: I loaned money to Susan.
CI: You didn't.
Johnston: Susan took money and Susan gave me back money. She gave that back to me.

-Later in the conversation:

Johnston: You know something, I didn't do anything wrong. Alright? That's the bottom line. I have not done anything wrong. And there's no fucking proof that I did anything wrong. If anything, anyone looks into that company and says that, he's a good businessman. He made a lot of fucking money. So what? I made money. I charged way fucking more than I should have on jobs. So what? That's not a crime. It is not a crime to charge people more money than what a job's worth. You think it's a crime to sell, you know, ten-dollar bottles of water, you know, where there's...out in the desert? No. It's supply and demand.

-Later in conversation:

CI: You were paying off her Visa and her American Express Card. You know it's these little things that bug me. It's not honest.
Johnston: What's not honest about it? It's what they call in the business industry, tit for tat. It's, um, scratch my back and I'm going to scratch your back. And it's...what's wrong with, what's wrong with someone going off and getting a really big, expensive gift, you know, or what about NFL football players? They get cars, they get houses, they get all kinds of shit, right? From the people who are trying to get them on their team. Is that?...and they write stuff off. Right? They write off the car and they write off all the stuff and they say it's a gift. Why is it a gift? Because I like em. Well, what do you get out of that? He's going to play for your team. Right? Now, if I give Susan...write off her, her uh, bill, guess what? It is a write-off because it's a gift. Right? Why did I give her a gift? Because I want her fucking business. And did I get her business? Yes. It's not wrong. I looks wrong but it's not. That's business. It's business. I kept Susan in my back pocket because she was giving me work. And she gave me work and it was easy. It was very easy work. So that's the reason that I did it. Okay?

-Later in conversation:

Cl: You said, fine Ara, I'll tell you. You said Susan approached you, she asked you how much you were doing...markings...you were billing them. You said that she said, mark it up and then she'd approve it.

Johnston: Right, she asked me to rob Peter to pay Paul. Okay? That's all it is.

-Later in conversation:

Cl: And then you said, oh, what she doesn't know is that I'm pocketing more than what...

Johnston: What the original agreement was, because she didn't know that. That's my standard markup. That's my markup.

Cl: I know. But that's what I'm getting at. What you said, aside from the markup, you said, oh, I'm keeping whatever, whatever's left over and we're splitting it. I don't think that's right.

Johnston: That's not unethical. Because it's a gift. It's not a kickback. A kickback is when you're being forced to...you know, and, if you...well, that's blackmail. Yeah, a kickback....

Cl: I'm just saying, how am I going to explain that to....

Johnston: Who?

Cl: When I, when I get audited. Because I'm telling them the same thing I told my attorney's, that you fucking scared me. This is what Michael said, he said he's marking it up and whatever the difference was, they were splitting it. Yet Susan didn't know that I was keeping a bigger portion of it.

Johnston: It stayed in the company so what big difference is that of mine? And if I'm giving her money and I'm still paying taxes on it, who cares? IRS doesn't give a shit. You can give...if I came up to you and gave you $50, does the IRS care? No. Do they? No, they don't care. Now, if I gave you $50, and you didn't report the $50 on your...you know...a gift is a gift.

Cl: I know...but did you...

Johnston: Did you earn it? No, she didn't earn it. She gets it...

Cl: But you told me not to..not to, give her a W-2.

Johnston: If, if...

Cl: That made me nervous.

Johnston: If she was working, if she was working as a contract employee.

Cl: But she wasn't.

Johnston: That's right, she wasn't. She got gifts and I paid taxes on them. There's no way to hide the amount of money that was coming in, because when money comes in, to Transcend, it goes straight to the bank. And the bank has, has records. And if your records don't match your financial statements, you get audited. And they go, where did the money go? Right? You still have to pay taxes on it. And the IRS only cares, only cares if you don't pay taxes on it. That money I gave Susan, I paid taxes on it. She didn't. Okay? So there's nothing wrong. So you can go into the IRS and say, when you get audited, say, yeah, these are, this is money that was given to her. It was given to her, so what. I still paid taxes on it. So what's the problem?

g. Evidence of Mail Fraud and Related Money Laundering

22. During the CI's tenure as office manager of the Source/Transcend, she observed that the mail was regularly used in Source/Transcend's dealings with 24-Hour Fitness. The CI stated that when the Source/Transcend billed 24-Hour Fitness, invoices were sent through the United States mail. Additionally, when the company received payments from 24-Hour Fitness, the mail was used. Additionally, I have examined the 267 checks that the Source/Transcend received from 24-Hour Fitness. All of the checks are paid to the order of the Source/Transcend's name and have the Source/Transcend's mailing address placed directly below. Based on my training and experience, businesses prepare payments this way when they are mailed using the listed address on the check.

23. As stated earlier in this affidavit, the payments that the Source/Transcend received from 24-Hour Fitness were deposited into the Source/Transcend's business bank account. Since evidence exists that Michael Johnston and Susan Powell were fraudulently involved in over-billing 24-Hour Fitness, these payments from 24-Hour Fitness that were received through the mail are the proceeds of mail fraud, a specified unlawful activity.¹ Of the 267 checks that I have documented being deposited into the company's account from 24-Hour Fitness, 125 deposits are in excess of $10,000. I believe this to be (A) any act or activity constituting an offense listed in section 1961(1) of this title...

Title 18 USC § 1961(1): "racketeering activity" means...(B) any act which is indictable under any of the following provisions of title 18, United States Code:...section 1341 relating to mail fraud.

probable cause of violations of Title 18 USC § 1957².

IV. Basis for Searching The Business Location of The Source/Transcend

24. Based upon my training and eight years experience as a special agent, sole proprietors and various business entities such as partnerships and corporations that conduct business, derive income, and incur expenses on a regular basis maintain books and records of their activities for, among other reasons, use in financial, tax, and legal matters, as well as for budgeting, forecasting, and to obtain financing. These books and records generally consist of various journals, ledgers, invoices, receipts, loan documents, and bank records (i.e.: monthly account statements, deposit tickets, and canceled checks) and financial statements. Such documents are routinely stored at the business location. Records of this type are normally kept for extended periods of time.

25. In addition to my training and experience that businesses keep records for extended periods of time, Johnston made comments referring to records that he is keeping during the audio-taped conversation with the CI on November 30, 2000. Johnston referred to records he keeps specifically relating to payments to and from Susan Powell. The following conversation took place regarding records that Johnston possesses:

Johnston:If you think that I've done something unethical or if you think that I've done something illegal that's going to affect you later on in life, then you get an auditor and you tell them to come in there...
CI: I've been trying to and you've been keeping me from it. That's what you keep saying. All I ask is....I

² Title 18 USC § 1957: (a) Whoever, in any of the circumstances set forth in subsection (d), knowingly engages or attempts to engage in a monetary transaction in criminally derived property that is of value greater than $10,000 and is derived from specified unlawful activity, shall be punished as provided in subsection (b).

(d) The circumstances referred to in subsection (a) are-(1) that the offense under this section takes place in the United States or in the special maritime jurisdiction of the United States.

asked for the financials a long time ago and you won't let me see them.

Johnston: The financials...you know what? I don't know what financials...what are financials anyway?

CI: Bank statements, Michael.

Johnston: Bank statements. I have books of bank statements, I have copies of all the bank statements.

CI: I wanted the bank statements, I wanted the originals tax returns.

Johnston: That's fine. What do you plan to see? All the ones that say Susan Powell?

CI: Yeah.

Johnston: Okay, do you want to see all of the checks that Susan Powell wrote to me to cover them? Do you want those? I have copies of them.

26. I have personally driven by the Source/Transcend's business location at #8 Station Way in Los Gatos, California. A sign reading Transcend Advertising and Design is affixed to the entrance of the location. The inside of the business is clearly visible from the street as the second story that it occupies is entirely fronted by glass. I observed a typical office setting with desks, computers, paperwork and files.

27. Based upon my experience that businesses store financial records for extended periods of time, my personal observation of the business as well as Michael Johnston's own statements that he keeps records which are specifically relative to Susan Powell and payments made to and from her, I believe there to be probable cause to search the business location of Transcend Advertising and Design located at #8 Station Way in Los Gatos, California, for the items to be seized in Attachment B.

V. Basis for Searching Johnston's Personal Residence

28. Based upon my training and eight years experience as a special agent, individuals keep records of personal income and expenditures in the form of various invoices, receipts, account statements, loan documents, and bank records. Such documents are routinely stored at the individual's residence. Records of this type are normally kept for extended periods of time as they are frequently used in financial, tax, and legal matters, as well as to prove ownership of assets for warranty and other purposes.

29. I have personally driven by the residence at 16505 Englewood Avenue, Los Gatos, California, and have observed vehicles registered to Michael Johnston and/or the company parked in the driveway of the residence.

30. In addition to my training and experience that individuals keep financial records for extended periods of time, evidence exists that Johnston has received financial records relative to his payments to Susan Powell at his residence located at 16505 Englewood Avenue, in Los Gatos, California. Johnston's personal bank account, from which he makes multiple payments to Susan Powell, is addressed to 16505 Englewood Avenue, Los Gatos, California. Also, the CI, who has proven to be reliable and credible on all information she has provided, told me that Johnston keeps archived company records at his residence. Based upon all these facts, I believe there is probable cause to search Johnston's residence, located at 16505 Englewood Avenue, Los Gatos, California, for the items to be seized in attachment B.

Basis for Searching Computer and/or Electronic Data Processing Devices

31. There is probable cause to believe that Michael Johnston keeps evidence of the aforementioned violations on a computer and/or electronic data processing device. The CI has informed me that she personally operated Quickbook financial software from a computer within the business when she was doing company bookkeeping. Additionally, in the following excerpt from the CI's recorded conversation with Johnston, Johnston mentions the business's use of Quickbooks and the storage of company records:

Johnston: ...I am so fucking in sync with what's going on with the IRS, it's incredible. I have so much stuff prepared for an audit. And I don't..look...I have all that stuff, and I don't want you to think that I've done anything wrong. I've rectified everything. I've had an accountant, a CPA, come in for a month, sit at Quickbooks and reconcile everything and hold everything accountable. And every single check that was ever written.

32. I have spoken with IRS Special Agent Michael P. Farrelly, a seized computer evidence recovery specialist (SCERS), regarding the seizing of evidence contained within computers and electronic data processing devices. Special Agent Farrelly is the senior computer investigative specialist for the IRS San Jose post of duty. He has received extensive training on computer forensics and recovering computer evidence. Special Agent Farrelly has informed me that because of technical reasons, the downloading of evidence stored on a computer at the search warrant location is often difficult. He stated that often he cannot obtain access to the computer or cannot search for or copy information from the computer on site. He also stated that sometimes the volume of material stored on a computer is too great to search on site, and that because of the above reasons it is often necessary to remove the entire computer to a laboratory setting for a sufficient period of time to obtain access to, search for and recover computer records.

VI. Probable Cause of Forfeitable Assets Under Title 18 USC § 981

33. Because probable cause exists that the proceeds of a specified unlawful activity were deposited into the Source/Transcend's Wells Fargo business checking account #0487-098741, in violation of Title 18, USC § 1957, then any property traceable to those deposited proceeds is subject to forfeiture by the United States under Title 18 USC § 981³. An analysis of the

³ Title 18 USC § 981: (a)(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), the following property is subject to forfeiture to the United States:

(A) Any property, real or personal, involved in a transaction or attempted transaction in violation of section 5313(a) or 5324(a) of Title 31, or of section 1956 or 1957 of this title, or any property traceable to such property.

Source/Transcend's business checking account shows that after proceeds from 24-Hour Fitness were deposited into the Source/Transcend's business checking account, two vehicles and one boat were purchased and/or financed with funds from the business checking account. Probable cause that these assets were purchased and/or financed with money laundering proceeds and are thus forfeitable to the United States is as follows:

1997 BMW - License 3WNT181 - Vin#: WBABK8320VET99997

34. On July 18, 1997, check number 1762 from the Source/Transcend's Wells Fargo Business checking account #0487-098741, in the amount of $53,535.40, was written to Stevens Creek BMW for the purchase of the aforementioned BMW. DMV records show that the vehicle was purchased on July 18, 1997, and is registered to Michael J. Johnston and the CI at 16505 Englewood Avenue in Los Gatos, California.

35. Previous to the purchase of the BMW on July 18, 1997, in excess of $1.2 million in payments from 24-Hour Fitness had been deposited into the Source/Transcend's business checking account. Additionally, ten checks had already been written from the business bank account to Susan Powell or her credit card account totaling $45,408.

36. Based upon the facts presented earlier in this affidavit that: a kickback scheme and related mail fraud and money laundering occurred, $1.2 million from 24-Hour Fitness had already been deposited into the business checking account, Susan Powell had already been paid in excess of $44,000 by Michael Johnston and Johnston stated that he kept more than 50% of the over-billing of 24-Hour Fitness, I believe that proceeds of a Title 18 USC § 1957, money laundering, transaction were used to pay for the aforementioned BMW and that since the money used to purchase the BMW is traceable to the money laundering violation, it is subject to forfeiture by the United States.

1999 Chevrolet Tahoe - License 4FRE998 - VIN#3GNEK18R9XG197353

37. On April 27, 1999, check number 1903 from the Source/Transcend's Wells Fargo Business checking account #0487-098741, in the amount of $35,693.18, was written to Anderson Chevrolet for the purchase of the aforementioned 1999 Chevy Tahoe. Besides the vehicle identification number written in the memo section at the bottom of the check, DMV records also show that the vehicle was purchased in 1999, and is registered to Catapult Design Group (another previous name of the Source/Transcend company) at #8 Station Way in Los Gatos, California.

38. Previous to the purchase of the Chevrolet Tahoe on April 27, 1999, in excess of $3.8 million in payments from 24-Hour Fitness had been deposited into the Source/Transcend's business checking account. Additionally, twenty-eight (28) checks had already been written from the business bank account and Johnston's personal account to Susan Powell or her credit card account totaling $142,788.

39. Based upon the facts presented earlier in this affidavit that: a kickback scheme and related mail fraud and money laundering occurred, $3.8 million from 24-Hour Fitness had already been deposited into the business checking account, Susan Powell had already been paid in excess of $142,000 by Michael Johnston and Johnston stated had kept more than 50% of the over-billing of 24-Hour Fitness, I believe that proceeds of a Title 18 USC § 1957, money laundering, transaction were used to pay for the aforementioned Chevrolet Tahoe and that since the money used to purchase the vehicle is traceable to the money laundering violation, it is subject to forfeiture by the United States.

1999 Nautique Super Sport ski-boat - License 6141PK - VIN# CTC97006G899

40. On April 28, 1999, check number 1905 from the Source/Transcend's Wells Fargo Business checking account #0487-098741, in the amount of $45,925.77, was written to Central Valley Marine for the purchase of the aforementioned skiboat. DMV records show that the vessel was purchased on April 26, 1999, and is registered to Michael J. Johnston at 16505 Englewood Avenue in Los Gatos, California.

41. Previous to the purchase of the ski-boat on April 28, 1999, in excess of $3.8 million in payments from 24-Hour Fitness had been deposited into the Source/Transcend's business checking account. Additionally, twenty-eight (28) checks had already been written from the business bank account and Johnston's personal account to Susan Powell or her credit card account totaling $142,788.

42. Based upon the facts presented earlier in this affidavit that: a kickback scheme and related mail fraud and money laundering occurred, $3.8 million from 24-Hour Fitness had already been deposited into the business checking account, Susan Powell had already been paid in excess of $142,000 by Michael Johnston and Johnston had stated he kept more than 50% of the over-billing of 24-Hour Fitness, I believe that proceeds of a Title 18 USC § 1957, money laundering, transaction were used to pay for the aforementioned Nautique skiboat and that since the money used to purchase the skiboat is traceable to the money laundering violation, it is subject to forfeiture by the United States.

Conclusion

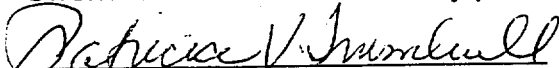

43. Based upon the foregoing facts, there is probable cause to believe, and I do believe, that Michael Johnston and Susan Powell engaged in violations of Title 18, USC § 1341 (mail fraud) and Title 18 USC § 1957 (money laundering) relative to a kickback scheme and the subsequent depositing of the proceeds of that scheme. I also believe that there is probable cause to believe that financial records and other evidence of the kickback scheme, mail fraud and money laundering, as described more fully in Attachment B to this affidavit, are present at the business location of Transcend Advertising and Design at #8 Station Way in Los Gatos, California, and at the personal residence of Michael Johnston located 16505 Englewood Avenue in Los Gatos, California. Additionally, I believe that probable cause exists to seize one 1997 BMW (VIN WBABK8320VET99997), one 1999 Ski Nautique Super Sport ski boat (VIN CTC97006G899), one 1999 Chevrolet Tahoe (VIN 3GNEK18R9XG197353), based on the evidence that these assets were purchased with funds traceable to money laundering transactions and are forfeitable to the United States under the civil forfeiture statute of Title 18 USC § 981.

44. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct and that this affidavit was executed at San Jose, California, on January 17, 2001.
